PEOPLE OF NOTE.

SIR MORELL MACKENZIE, M.D. English Physician of the Heir to the Ger

Dr. Morell Mackenzie, of London, lately made "Sir Knight" by Queen Victoria, is the physician the most talked about everywhere at the present time. At an early stage in the illness of the Crown Prince of Germany, Dr. McKenzie said that if stage in the illness of the Grown Prince of Germany, Dr. McKenzie said that if his disease were not malignant he could care it. Previous to this time Professor Virchow had declared that the swelling in the Prince's throat was of beniga character. On the strength of this report Dr. Mckenzie expressed the confidence that the disease could be cursed. The contrary opinion is held by eminent German physicians, and the Englishman lately has seen reason to change his mind. He thinks the life of his patient can be prolonged about two years. Probably an operation will be undertaken from the outside of the Prince's throat, sovering the windpipe to admit of access to the diseased curface. Sir Morell Mackenzie will not be an actual participant in this projected operation. An a matter of course his method of treating the Prince is severely criticized by other physicians. That "doctors differ" in abundantly demonstrated in professional dealings with the Orown Prince.

Sir Morell Mackenzie is not as young as he looks. As long ago as 1858 he became a member of the Reyal College of Surgeons. He took the degree of M. D. in the University of London in 1832, and was elected a member of the Royal College of Physicians of the same city, in 1864 Dr. Mackenzie has long enjoyed high reputation for his special knowledge of diseases of the throat and vocal organs. This was the reason why he was called in to treat the Crown Prince. It fell to the lot "of Dr. Mackenzie to disclose to his patient his dangerous condition. Speaking of this occurrence he said recently: "My message was received with most perfect calmness. The Prince, after an instant of silence, put out his hand with his unual winning smile, and grasping nine, said: 'I have been lately fearing something of this asort. I thank yon, Sir Morell, for being so frank with me.' At dinner that evening he was the most cheerful of the party. In all my long experience I have never seen a man bear himself under cimilar circumstances with such unsaffected heroism."

Dr. Mackenzie visited th

affected heroism."
Dr. Mackenzie visited this country in 1882. White in Washington he was the guest of Dr. Carroll Morgan, of that city. In a recent interview Dr. Morgan described Dr. Mackenzie as "cool, keen, intellectual and ambitious, of perfect self-possession and great skill."

Is trobibition Gaining?

N. Y. Tribum.

The fact that the Prohibitionisis made slight gains in several States at the recent elections is being used by them and their allies, the Democrats, to create the impression that the cause is making decided headway. Nothing can be further from the truth. In the first place, the defect of prohibition amendments on the popular vote in four States this year—Meiniagn.

Texas, Tennessee and Oregon—is significant of a wideastread conviction that probibition is unwise and impracticable. When Michigan, one of the most representative of Northern States, and Texas, a typical State of the extreme South, units with Tennecsee, a middle Sauthern, and Oregon, a facilic State, in voting down prohibition, and the probibition. The results indicately excepted by the said that a to the continuance of prohibition. The results indicately excepted where this was made a question by itself, and voters took addes without regard to party affiliations. It can hardly be said that they are ancouraging to Prohibitionate. On the other hand, where they formed themselves into a separate political party, the returns show that they have gained in this State between 4000 and 5,000 votes over last year, but this is the total result of the most energetic campaign they ever made, and is some quarters have lost heavily. It is, true that they gained in the promote of the state had been earlier roused to the designs of the liquor dealers. It is true that they gained in Massachusetts, but it was only 901 votes out of a total vote of 746,685 and gaining, say, 700 votes a year, to become a majority party. In all thees States the rato of gain this year last party and the prohibition party seems to have collapsed. Last year, it as maller than it was last year.

In Pennsylvania, on the other hand, the Prohibition party seems to have collapsed. Last year, it as an all results and the prohibition party seems to have collapsed. WEAK DEED Sendering from the effects of you that example of the control of th rate of gain this year is smaller than it was last year.

In Pennsylvania, on the other hand, the Prohibition party seems to have collapsed. Last year it cast 32,485 votes, this year it cast for Secretary of State only 18,471 votes, and for Judge only 16,921—a loss in the one case of more than 40, and in the other of almost exactly 50 per cent. This followed a few months after the passage by the Republican Legislature of the High License law. In New Jersey, also, it is stated that the Prohibition vote on the legislative tickets shows a decided lose. There is nothing in this to encourage the Prohibitionies much, and nothing to lead the Republicans to fast that they may turn the Presidential election against us. The Republican Legislature should, and doubtless will, pass a stringent High License law, which will diminish the evils of the liquor traffic at the same time that it reduces the burdens of the taxpayers. They can, and will, present a firm front against all attempts to open the saloons on Sunday. Prohibition leaders have publicly admitted zince the election that the Sunday issue "denoralized" their canvass., Well it might, seeing that some of their their followers must have seen, even in the short time that remained for reflection before election, that they wave being used to help throw open the salcon doors on Sunday. If the New York Republicans will follow this line, the Prohibitionists in this State will soon be as powerloss to prevent Republican success as they are in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Ohio.

WHELLIO, TUESDAY, NOV. 29.

The Thanksgiving holiday season being over, trade is again beginning to move along at a most satisfactory rate, preparatory to the Christmas holidays. The indications are that from now on until inventory time, business will be all that the most exacting can expect or sak for. In the way of changes this morning, a slight advance in flour is noticed. Alle is higher and coffres have been shaded off a trifle. The usual produce changes are made, the most noticeable of which are advances in the quotations on appics, potatoes, cabbage and untils. The quotations are subject to fluctuations during the week:
